Sudan Law Library Project

In November 2006 Eve Poirier responded to an email from the Dept. of Justice calling for a Justice Librarian to be involved as a consultant expert in the creation of a law library in Southern Sudan. Join Eve for the story of how she got to Sudan, where the project still needs to go...what she learned along the way....and why she needs a holiday....

Presenter: Eve Poirier, Regional Librarian for the Prairie Region of the Federal Dept. of Justice.

Website Redevelopment: A SAIT Library Story

Maintaining good humour and optimism during website redevelopment projects can challenge any institution. Learn from SAIT's experience on how to meet these challenges as Kat profiles the heroes, dramas, and triumphs of the SAIT Library Website Redevelopment Project: from planning and development to launch and testing.

Presenter: Kat Marlowe, Web Development and Instructional Librarian, SAIT Library

Departmental On-Site Librarianship – The University of Alberta Engineering Librarians' Experience

In the fall of 2003, the engineering librarians of the University of Alberta began offering librarian on-site information services to undergraduate students four hours a week in a Faculty of Engineering computer lab. Jerry and Randy will describe how the on-site service began, and the reasons it evolved into the departmental-specific service in place today.

Presenters: Jerry Kowalyk and Randy Reichardt – Research Services Librarians (Engineering), Cameron Science & Technology Library, University of Alberta

Post meeting: tour of McNally Library

Meeting location: NAITrium
